Report on Exposure Visit to Innovation & Incubation Centre at G.Pulla Reddy Engineering College, Kurnool

Program Report

Incubation centres help students to nurture and develop early stage business ideas into successful start-ups. They also provide access to working spaces, funding opportunities, technical support and much more. Entrepreneur development cell of SJDC in collaboration with Institution's Innovation Council had organized an Exposure visit to Innovation & Incubation centre at G. Pulla Reddy Engineering college, Kurnool on 13-06-2023.

Dr. D. R Srinivas IIC convener and in-charge of Incubation Centre spoke on the role of Incubation centres in developing student entrepreneurship and explained the concepts of co-working spaces, idea development and critical thinking skills to students. He also motivated the students to join the Innovation centre to generate and channelize ideas.

Program Objectives:

1. To create awareness among the students on the Role of Incubation centre in supporting entrepreneurs in developing their start-ups.
2. To sensitise students about local incubators and successful businesses that have emerged with the help of Incubation centres.

Program Outcomes:

1. Through this visit the students witnessed on how the Incubation centres provide an ideal platform for nurturing student entrepreneurship.
2. Dr Srinivas, in-charge of the Innovation Centre extended an invitation to students to use support service like Internships, live projects and technical help offered by them.
