NATIONAL SCIENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS- 2022

It is known that to commemorate Dr.Sir C.V.Raman and his discovery related to the Raman effect, Feb 28 is observed as National Science Day. As a part of National Science Day Celebrations, the Department of Physics has come forward to promote enthusiasm towards Science and also to enlighten importance of Science among the students, selected some of the U.G. students and trained them to teach the same to the students of high school standards. The selected students approached to the different schools and conducted live experiments in front of those students. The program was successful as the students response was good.
